

A Man a Vision

Dejan Štancer

Dejan Štancer: Architect of Cooperation, Strategist of Influence

In the increasingly turbulent landscape of the 21st century, where leadership is often reduced to rhetoric and vision rarely translated into action, few figures embody the true essence of global statesmanship as convincingly as Dejan Štancer.

He is not only the President of the Global Chamber of Business Leaders (GCBL), but a strategist, connector, and architect of cooperation whose influence extends across continents - from Europe to Central Asia, from boardrooms of Fortune 500 companies to offices of presidents and prime ministers.

A Global Strategist with Deep Roots

Born in Slovenia but truly a citizen of the world, Štancer has long recognized that the future of humanity cannot be dictated by isolation or conflict, but only by dialogue, trust, and cooperation.

His work in Kazakhstan stands as a defining example of this vision. There, he has acted not merely as a visitor or guest, but as a trusted strategic advisor, mediator, and lobbyist, helping to bridge the gap between political leadership, economic opportunity, and international cooperation.

His efforts in Central Asia have earned him respect as a man capable of building trust across cultural, political, and economic divides - an ability that places him in the ranks of today's most credible global influencers.

Addressing GCBL delegates and executives

The ENTJ Personality: A Commander in Action

Psychologists would describe Štancer's profile as unmistakably ENTJ - The Commander.

In practice, this means decisiveness, strategic clarity, and an uncompromising drive for results. But beyond the archetype, it is his ability to translate vision into structure and ambition into achievement that has earned him his reputation.

Colleagues and partners often highlight his rare combination of intellectual depth, diplomatic acumen, and pragmatic execution.

Where others hesitate, Štancer acts; where others see obstacles, he engineers solutions.

With François Hollande, former President of France

With Ban Ki-moon UN Secretary- General

A Trusted Advisor to Leaders

Over the years, Štancer has built an extraordinary network of relationships with some of the world's most influential leaders. He has served as a confidant and advisor to heads of state, ministers, diplomats, and corporate leaders, offering guidance on matters ranging from geopolitical strategy to economic development, from sustainable investment to conflict mediation.

His ability to move seamlessly between the worlds of politics and business reflects a deep understanding that true progress emerges when the two are aligned.

Leaders value his perspective not only for its sharpness, but also for its ethical foundation. In an era where many pursue influence for personal gain, Štancer has consistently demonstrated that influence is only valuable if it is applied in service of peace, cooperation, and shared prosperity.

Master of Lobbying and Influence

Few understand the art of lobbying and influence as well as Dejan Štancer. To him, lobbying is not about manipulation - it is about building bridges of understanding between stakeholders who may not otherwise find common ground. His reputation as a trusted intermediary has allowed him to successfully navigate some of the most complex negotiations between governments, corporations, and international institutions.

This skill has made him one of the rare individuals who can claim both credibility in high-level diplomacy and effectiveness in global business leadership. In the corridors of influence, he is respected as someone who knows not just how to speak, but how to deliver.

Leadership of GCBL: Redefining Business as a Force for Peace

As President of the Global Chamber of Business Leaders (GCBL), Štancer has elevated the organization into one of the world's most respected business platforms. Under his leadership, GCBL has evolved into a truly global network, offering companies a unique gateway to international markets while also serving as a strategic advisory body with consultative status at the United Nations.

Štancer's vision for GCBL goes far beyond commerce. To him, business is not an end in itself, but a means of shaping a more just and cooperative world. Through GCBL, he has built a platform where economic power meets ethical responsibility, and where leaders are reminded that prosperity without peace is ultimately unsustainable.

A Voice for Unity in an Age of Division

In today's fragmented world, Štancer has emerged as one of the most compelling voices for unity. His leadership in the Global Coalition for Cooperation and Peace (GCCP) has positioned him at the forefront of a movement that is rapidly becoming a defining force of our time.

With its rallying cry - "The Cost of Our Division is WAR. The Reward of Our Unity is PEACE." - the coalition reflects Štancer's deepest conviction: that the only viable path for humanity lies in cooperation, not confrontation.

By mobilizing respected leaders from politics, academia, business, and civil society, Štancer is proving that the dream of peace is not naïve, but urgent - and achievable.

Global Investment Forum, Georgia, 2019
Dejan Štancer honored as keynote guest by Ekaterina Majsuradze,
President of GAACC, Georgia

The Cost of Our Division is WAR.
The Reward of Our Unity is PEACE."

National award in Kyrgyzstan, bestowed by the Prime Minister